

BUS 20 Business Management

This course is a study of basic business management concepts and theories in a global, competitive environment. Emphasis is on an operational analysis of the manager's role in multinational business organizations. Also emphasized are the principles of Total Quality Management and the traditional management functions of planning, organizing, staffing, leading, and controlling.